Are we dry yet?

Hey Kiddos;

We had rain today from the remnants of Irma here in Nashville. After a horrifying weekend of television with all the pictures of flooding and wrecked houses in Florida, it is impossible to believe another place I love, and lived in, is hurting. I don't know that it is even possible to gage the amount of disruption in people's lives, and how long will it be until there is a return to normalcy. Again, our hearts go out to those folks, no matter where, that need our help. Contact the Red Cross for donations, as they always stand by ready, willing, and able. Don't forget tonight's Hurricane Harvey broadcast, Hand in Hand, and George Strait's Rebuild Texas Fund benefit are being offered by Westwood One. Performing tonight at San Antonio's Majestic Theater with George are Miranda Lambert, Chris Stapleton, Lyle Lovett, and Robert Earl Keen.

Even though it is a tad soggy, Americana Music has its party dress on. This is quite the week of the tribe getting together to share music, compare notes, and celebrate being together. Many Texas Red Dirt artists are on hand this year, which is great to see. Hope to see you around town!

Congrats to Pat Green on his 7th week at #1. Greatest Gainer is the Josh Abbott Band, Most Added is Zane Williams, and Highest Debut is Julia Hatfield. Now if Hurricane Season would just get behind us!

Looking forward,
Jessie Scott

Chart Recurrent Methodology

When does a song move to recurrent on the chart? It is one of the more challenging issues we encountered in creating the CDX TRACtion Texas chart system. Rather than relying on subjective editorial decisions, we've chosen to automate this process using the weekly chart data as a marker.

We strive to avoid having singles past their prime create a logjam on the chart, because that stifles upward momentum for up-and-coming singles. But we also try to ensure that singles "on the bubble" are not removed prematurely. As long-time chart watchers know, singles often take a while to establish a solid base among early believers at radio before they truly find their legs. Due to any number of reasons, the path to peak chart position rarely includes straight-line, week-over-week spin and/or chart position growth.

On a monitored airplay chart like CDX TRACtion Texas, the reality is that new singles bounce around a bit spin-wise and position-wise, particularly in the lower half of the chart. Even small spin increases and decreases can be magnified as fairly significant up-or-down chart position moves.

With this in mind, the CDX TRACtion Texas recurrent policy grades each chart position on a curve, using an algorithm that considers the chart position and spin history for that song. Newly serviced singles are allowed 20 weeks to chart before being removed from chart consideration. Once a status change is actively being considered by the algorithm, the cumulative amount of spin loss from the single's previous peak spin count is the trigger. The allowable spin loss varies as a percentage, depending on the chart position.

In addition to making sure that only singles with significant downward movement become recurrent, this methodology also benefits slow-developing singles in several ways. For instance, the allowable spin loss (as a percentage) is very generous at the lower reaches of the chart to accommodate the lower spin counts. Additionally, if a single is at risk of being moved to recurrent status with two consecutive weeks of minor spin loss, it can still return to positive spin growth the following week, which will reset the clock.
