Chart Recurrent Methodology

When does a song move to recurrent on the chart? It is one of the more challenging issues we encountered in creating the CDX TRACtion Texas chart system. Rather than relying on subjective editorial decisions, we’ve chosen to automate this process using the weekly chart data as a marker.

We strive to avoid having singles past their prime create a logjam on the chart, because that stifles upward momentum for up-and-coming singles. But we also try to ensure that singles “on the bubble” are not removed prematurely. As long-time chart watchers know, singles often take a while to establish a solid base among early believers at radio before they truly find their legs. Due to any number of reasons, the path to peak chart position rarely includes straight-line, week-over-week spin and/or chart position growth.

On a monitored airplay chart like CDX TRACtion Texas, the reality is that new singles bounce around a bit spin-wise and position-wise, particularly in the lower half of the chart. Even small spin increases and decreases can be magnified as fairly significant up-or-down chart position moves.

With this in mind, the CDX TRACtion Texas recurrent policy grades each chart position on a curve, using an algorithm that considers the chart position and spin history for that song. Newly serviced singles are allowed 20 weeks to chart before being removed from chart consideration. Once a status change is actively being considered by the algorithm, the cumulative amount of spin loss from the single’s previous peak spin count is the trigger. The allowable spin loss varies as a percentage, depending on the chart position.

In addition to making sure that only singles with significant downward movement become recurrent, this methodology also benefits slow-developing singles in several ways. For instance, the allowable spin loss (as a percentage) is very generous at the lower reaches of the chart to accommodate the lower spin counts. Additionally, if a single is at risk of being moved to recurrent status with two consecutive weeks of minor spin loss, it can still return to positive spin growth the following week, which will reset the clock.

THIS WEEK'S FEATURED ARTIST • MATTHEW SHANE BAND

The Matthew Shane Band from Huntington Texas (Lufkin Nacogdoches area) is so new to the Texas Music scene that when their debut single hit the Texas music charts as the most added song of the week, it caught them off guard. Used to playing the smaller honkytonks and taverns in the east Texas towns they now find themselves being called up to open some of the bigger Dance Halls in Texas. Matthew Parrish, the lead singer knew by the age of 5 he wanted to play guitar when his Mom took him to church and he saw "an old guy jamming on a 1950 something Stratocaster". Soon after he would hear Keith Whitley and Vern Gosdin on the radio and he was hooked. Now making their debut on Texas Radio with a song inspired by a guy who was dating a not so good girl that was always stepping out. He finally tells her if she does it again, He's done.

This is their debut single YOU GOT IT
