Chart Recurrent Methodology

When does a song move to recurrent on the chart? It is one of the more challenging issues we encountered in creating the CDX TRACtion Texas chart system. Rather than relying on subjective editorial decisions, we’ve chosen to automate this process using the weekly chart data as a marker.

We strive to avoid having singles past their prime create a logjam on the chart, because that stifles upward momentum for up-and-coming singles. But we also try to ensure that singles “on the bubble” are not removed prematurely. As long-time chart watchers know, singles often take a while to establish a solid base among early believers at radio before they truly find their legs. Due to any number of reasons, the path to peak chart position rarely includes straight-line, week-over-week spin and/or chart position growth.

On a monitored airplay chart like CDX TRACtion Texas, the reality is that new singles bounce around a bit spin-wise and position-wise, particularly in the lower half of the chart. Even small spin increases and decreases can be magnified as fairly significant up-or-down chart position moves.

With this in mind, the CDX TRACtion Texas recurrent policy grades each chart position on a curve, using an algorithm that considers the chart position and spin history for that song. Newly serviced singles are allowed 20 weeks to chart before being removed from chart consideration. Once a status change is actively being considered by the algorithm, the cumulative amount of spin loss from the single’s previous peak spin count is the trigger. The allowable spin loss varies as a percentage, depending on the chart position.

In addition to making sure that only singles with significant downward movement become recurrent, this methodology also benefits slow-developing singles in several ways. For instance, the allowable spin loss (as a percentage) is very generous at the lower reaches of the chart to accommodate the lower spin counts. Additionally, if a single is at risk of being moved to recurrent status with two consecutive weeks of minor spin loss, it can still return to positive spin growth the following week, which will reset the clock.

THIS WEEK'S FEATURED ARTIST • CHAD COOKE BAND

In and out of honky-tonks across Texas, the Chad Cooke Band delivers a fun country sound with a high energy 90's flare. This Houston based band made up of Chad Cooke on Acoustic/Vocals, Dallas McGilberry on Lead Guitar/Vocals, Kevin Pool on Bass Guitar/Vocals, and Mike Neyra on Drums/Vocals, had no idea of how quickly they would become a fan favorite on the Texas Music scene. Following the popularity of the band's first single "Oil Man", which continues to be a fan favorite with over 10 million streams, the band set off to Nashville to record their next project. Their sophomore album, Risk It All, produced the top 10 single "Whatever it Takes", which set the record for the longest-charting single on Texas/Red Dirt Radio at 43 weeks on the Texas Regional Radio Report. Building on the success of "Whatever It Takes", the band's following six singles ("Life Behind Bars", "Four Minutes", "Cowboy's Cowgirl!", "Bringing Country Back", "Señorita Sky", and "I Just Want You") all reached #1 on Texas/Red Dirt Radio. They are now scheduled to be the opening band at this year's Texas Country Music Awards show in FT Worth where they will be featuring their newest release Anderson County.
