Chart Recurrent Methodology

When does a song move to recurrent on the chart? It is one of the more challenging issues we encountered in creating the CDX TRACtion Texas chart system. Rather than relying on subjective editorial decisions, we’ve chosen to automate this process using the weekly chart data as a marker.

We strive to avoid having singles past their prime create a logjam on the chart, because that stifles upward momentum for up-and-coming singles. But we also try to ensure that singles “on the bubble” are not removed prematurely. As long-time chart watchers know, singles often take a while to establish a solid base among early believers at radio before they truly find their legs. Due to any number of reasons, the path to peak chart position rarely includes straight-line, week-over-week spin and/or chart position growth.

On a monitored airplay chart like CDX TRACtion Texas, the reality is that new singles bounce around a bit spin-wise and position-wise, particularly in the lower half of the chart. Even small spin increases and decreases can be magnified as fairly significant up-or-down chart position moves.

With this in mind, the CDX TRACtion Texas recurrent policy grades each chart position on a curve, using an algorithm that considers the chart position and spin history for that song. Newly serviced singles are allowed 20 weeks to chart before being removed from chart consideration. Once a status change is actively being considered by the algorithm, the cumulative amount of spin loss from the single’s previous peak spin count is the trigger. The allowable spin loss varies as a percentage, depending on the chart position.

In addition to making sure that only singles with significant downward movement become recurrent, this methodology also benefits slow-developing singles in several ways. For instance, the allowable spin loss (as a percentage) is very generous at the lower reaches of the chart to accommodate the lower spin counts. Additionally, if a single is at risk of being moved to recurrent status with two consecutive weeks of minor spin loss, it can still return to positive spin growth the following week, which will reset the clock.

Dance Time In Texas with DJ Mike (03/24/23)

THIS WEEK'S FEATURED ARTIST • CYNTHIA RAUSCH

Cynthia Rausch comes from a strong musical heritage. Her parents met while playing in a band. Her dad sang lead vocals and played drums, and her mother sang back up and played piano. As Cynthia and her 7 siblings got older, they started using their musical gifts in the local church their family attended. At the age of 15, Cynthia went through a dark time in her life. One day she decided to pick up the guitar and discovered that writing down her thoughts and putting them to music would help her overcome her issues.

Fast Forward... Cynthia has seen her writing change to a more Texas, Red Dirt feel which would result in her 1st top 50 single Barstool Queen as well as her last single No Way No How hitting Top 30 on Texas Radio. After finding her place on the Texas Music scene her star is starting to shine. Not only was she invited to perform at the Future Faces Show at Texas Live in Arlington, she was also nominated New Female Vocalist of the year. Her newest release is a story that a lot of people can relate to. The music video to What The Whiskey Gave You is now airing on Stars Over Texas TV.
